TWO LITTLE MAIDS OF TALENT

Residents of East Cambridge, as also the various religious societies of that district and Everett, are taking great interest in the benefit concert which is to be tendered this week to little Doris Horslin, and Edith Witham, two talented children, whose readings and songs at different dramatic readings have captivated all who have heard them.

The benefit which takes place Wednesday night is to be held in Everett Hall, Everett, and is under the patronage of Rev. Charles F. Barter, of East Cambridge, and Rev. C. F. Hamilton, of Everett.

Hundreds of friends of these favorite entertainers are expected to come and greet them, and local talent from the various theatres will assist at the concert.
